

Big 3 Agree On Suez Plans

U.S. Prepares To Ship Oil To West Europe Nations

Plans Are Made To Step Up East Coast Deliveries

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—A high administration official said today he judged the chances are "about 60-40, or 70-30" the government will have to put into effect an emergency plan for replacing oil supplies now coming through the Suez Canal.

This official, who declined the use of his name, said the government is preparing for the eventuality.

It is getting ready to supply at least 500,000 barrels of crude oil daily from the Western Hemisphere to Britain, France and other Western European nations, he reported.

In addition, plans are being made to increase oil deliveries to the Atlantic Coast from Texas and other Gulf Coast areas by 300,000 barrels a day to replace supplies normally received from the Middle East.

May 'De-Mothball' Tankers

The government official reported that instructions have been issued to Naval and civilian maritime officials to take necessary "preliminary" steps for the rapid withdrawal of some 40 tankers now in the government's "mothball" fleet for emergency oil-hauling service.

He said the government still hopes Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser will negotiate with a proposed Suez "users' association," which he said would make it unnecessary to put the emergency plans into effect. But he added:

"I would judge the chances are about 60-40, or 70-30 that some such plan will have to be activated."

This official spoke with reporters after H.A. Stewart, director of the Interior Department's oil and gas division, told a news conference the United States is setting up plans to ship from 500,000 to 1,100,000 barrels of oil daily to Western Europe in the event the flow of petroleum from the Middle East is interrupted.

Oil States Ready To Act

Officials of state oil regulatory commissions from Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and New Mexico assured Stewart their states could speed up production immediately by more than the required amount.

American funds have been the major support of the canal since Nasser nationalized it in July, the other official said, since the tolls paid by this country go directly to Egyptian authorities.

Those paid by the British and French go into the old canal company funds which are frozen in those countries.

Red China Army Cut 2,700,000

HONG KONG, Sept. 18 (AP)—Red China said today it had cut its massive army by 2,700,000 men since 1949 and would reduce it more if the West agrees to Russia's disarmament plan.

Marshal Peng Teh-Huai, defense minister and commander in chief of the army, made the announcement at the eighth Chinese Community Party Congress in Peking. His speech was broadcast by Peking radio.

Then Peng boasted his army—generally believed to number at least 3 million men—was being modernized for "the glorious task of liberating Taiwan—Formosa." The U. S. 7th Fleet guards Nationalist Formosa from Red invasion under a mutual security pact.

Peng did not say how much Red China would reduce its Army if the West agreed to the Soviet disarmament formula.

Eisenhower Adds Speech To Iowa Slate

Ike Tells Republican Campaigners To Let Demos "Do Yelling"

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower added a speech to his Iowa schedule today, while telling Republican campaigners to avoid the "exaggerations of partisan political talk" and let the Democrats "do the yelling."

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty announced Eisenhower will speak informally at the Des Moines Airport Friday afternoon following an off-the-cuff talk earlier at the National Field Days and plowing contests near Newton, Iowa.

Accompanied by his wife, the President will fly to Des Moines Friday and motor to Boone, Iowa, Mrs. Eisenhower's birthplace. The Eisenhowers will stay overnight with Mrs. Eisenhower's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Joel Carlson, who occupy the old family home in Boone.

Added Concern Indicated

The President's stepped-up schedule of two speeches in Iowa seemed to indicate some added concern on the part of Republican leaders about political trends in the farm belt.

Eisenhower will make a formal farm speech in Peoria, Ill., Sept. 25. He is expected to deal also with the farm issue to some extent in a CBS nationally televised campaign speech from a studio here tomorrow night.

Eisenhower told Republicans at a breakfast for Vice President Nixon and other campaigners this morning to tell the truth about his administration.

"By no means do we need to claim perfection," he said. "The record is there. And it is good."

Circumstances Beyond Control

"And where it has failed, it has failed because of circumstances often beyond control."

"For example," he continued, "we may be as peaceful as we want to be in this world. If some one else wants to be aggressive, we have to take measures that are not exactly like the way we would like to spend our effort."

"So, although the peace we have is not a secure peace in which we may have confidence, there are still many, many thousands of American mothers that are mighty thankful that their sons are not on the battlefield."

Estes Hits GOP On Dixon-Yates

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 18 (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said tonight Eisenhower administration officials, whom he did not name, had violated the law in what he called the "Dixon-Yates scandal."

He also said President Eisenhower had "repeatedly defended" the private power contract despite being put on notice of "a serious conflict of interests" and accused Atty. Gen. Brownell of "dereliction of duty" in handling the case.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate, in a prepared speech before a party rally here, charged the administration had sought to conceal from Congress and the public "the ugly truth about the Dixon-Yates deal."

The speech climaxed a day of campaigning in which he said Republican "myth men" are trying to keep Eisenhower disassociated from the administration's "grubbing for the special interests."

Kefauver moved into Minnesota where he drubbed Adlai E. Stevenson last March in the Democratic presidential primary, after stumping through Wisconsin.

Bob Burns' Daughter Faces Assault Charge

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18 (AP)—Barbara Burns, 18, daughter of the late comedian Bob Burns, was booked early today on suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon in a Hollywood cafe.

Donald J. Covert, 31, an actor, told police she threatened him with a .22 caliber automatic. She told officers Covert had been "pestering" her for several days.

Her attorney, Louis Eglar, said he earlier had asked the district attorney to see what could be done about stopping Covert's alleged actions.

Miss Burns, who lives alone in Hollywood, said Covert had been trying to obtain information about her father, the old bawdoo-playing comic, for a magazine.

Fund Campaigns Opened By Adlai And Joe Smith

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Adlai Stevenson got together with Joe Smith—in person—today, in the interest of raising seven million dollars for the Democratic campaign.

The presidential nominee appeared at a news conference with Joseph Edward Smith, former mayor of Oakland, Calif., to kick off two financial drives—a house-to-house canvass for donations Oct. 16 and a night of fund-raising dinners in big cities Oct. 20.

"Dollars For Democrats" Day

Oakland's Joe Smith was named honorary chairman of the Oct. 16 "Dollars for Democrats" day.

Fifteen local chairmen also were appointed. They all are named Joe Smith.

The Democrats thus stepped up their already extensive use of the incident at the Republican National Convention when a delegate was ordered out for attempting to put the name of a mythical "Joe Smith" into nomination against Vice President Nixon.

Matthew McCloskey, Democratic National Committee treasurer, told today's news conference the party now has around $50,000 in its treasury. This would be only about 25 per cent of the cost of a single nationwide television broadcast. The cash-on-hand figure did not include, however, contributions already pledged or expected.

Adlai To Visit Jacksonville

National Chairman Paul M. Butler said the Democrats already have contracted for 1½ million dollars worth of TV times and have another $1,300,000 worth under consideration.

Stevenson's headquarters announced today he will visit Jacksonville, Fla., in addition to stops previously announced, on the 6,790-mile campaign tour he will start next Saturday. He is scheduled to arrive in Jacksonville by plane at 11:00 a.m. Sept. 26 after an overnight stay in Miami.

Ky. Attorney General Bars Negro Students

FRANKFORT, Ky., Sept. 18 (AP)—Kentucky's attorney general ruled today Negro students cannot attend the previously all-white Sturgis High School in Union County.

Eight Negro students are now attending the high school which is being boycotted by white students. Only 50 students, including the Negroes, of the 275 total enrollment attended classes today.

Atty. Gen. Jo M. Ferguson said he has sent his opinion by telegram to the Union County Board of Education. Ferguson said his statement was based on facts as stated to him and was a statement of law on the matter of integration.

Handyman Guilty In Woman's Slaying

TOWSON, Md., Sept. 18 (AP)—Carl Daniel Kier, 21-year-old Negro handyman, tonight was found guilty of first degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. John Bopst Jr. in her home in a fashionable section north of Baltimore.

Sentencing was deferred pending a possible motion for a new trial.

Conviction of first degree murder in Maryland carries a penalty of death in the gas chamber or life in prison.

Dice Determine Crap Game Fines

WINTER PARK, Fla., Sept. 18 (AP)—Dice rolled and pleas for "snake eyes" were sounded in the sanctity of Winter Park Municipal Court today.

Judge Daniel Lefevre allowed two men, who pleaded guilty to taking part in a crap game, to use their dice to determine their fines.

The judge told Joseph Washington, 41, and Ezekiah Paige, 25, their fines would be $10 plus whatever they rolled.

Washington rubbed the dice in his hands, called loudly for "snake eyes," rolled a seven and was fined $17. "Snake eyes" is a spot on each cube.

Paige rolled a five and paid $15.

Marine To Get Hearing Today

PARRIS ISLAND, S.C., Sept. 18 (AP)—A Marine recruit who is up and around after a hernia operation which he claims was brought on by a punch in the stomach can confront his alleged attacker at a hearing tomorrow.

Pvt. Donald Hamisfar, 20, of Norwalk, Ohio, said a supply corporal hit him in the stomach and pushed him backward for failing to say "sir." This took place Aug. 23, he said.

It was his second day at this recruit training depot where Sgt. Matthew C. McKee was convicted last month of negligent homicide in the drowning of six recruits during a night march into a tidal stream.

The public information officer said the unidentified corporal, will have a preliminary hearing before his battalion commander "at which time Hamisfar, the accuser, will be present." The hearing will be in the battalion area and will not be open to the public.

Hamisfar told a reporter by telephone from the U.S. Naval hospital at nearby Beaufort late today that he had not been advised of the hearing. He said he would appear if told to do so.

Hamisfar added he did not know the name of the corporal. He said he was struck once, and made no attempt to return the blow.

Hamisfar said his platoon was receiving training equipment, and the corporal had given a demonstration, he said, he addressed the corporal without saying "sir" and was slugged in the stomach.

Boy, 14, Shoots And Kills Bank Bandit, Saves Father

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Sept. 18 (AP)—An American schoolboy calmly shot a gunman dead today as the man took aim at the boy's father in a weird bank robbery attempt, German police reported.

An erstwhile friend of the gunman was found shot dead in a wooded area near the city under mysterious circumstances.

The youngster who killed the gunman was identified as Robert Kuhel, 14. He is Brooklyn-born but has been a resident of Heidelberg since 1948 when his father came here to manage the branch office of the Chase Manhattan Bank.

The would-be robber was identified as Hugo Walgenbach, 56. Police said he once served time for a bank robbery in the United States.

German police reported they found the body of a friend of Wal-

The bandit entered the Kuhel home, produced a gun and ordered the three into their car to drive to the branch bank. ## Nixon Declares Administration Merits Victory

WHITTIER, Calif., Sept. 18 (AP)—Vice President Nixon sounded in his home town tonight the GOP battle cry that "One good term deserves another."

In this Southern California village where less than two weeks ago he buried his father, Nixon said the record of the Eisenhower administration entitles it to "a vote of confidence from the American people."

It was the second speech in the vice president's 15-day campaign that will take him to 32 states—a campaign that started this morning with a personal "bon voyage" from President Eisenhower in Washington.

Speaks At School He Attended

Nixon spoke in the auditorium of the high school he attended as a youth and in which his wife, Patricia, taught.

In keeping with his avowed intent to stick to the record and conduct a dignified campaign, Nixon told his Whittier neighbors the Republicans have "something far better to offer the American people than personal abuse of our opponents."

In a news conference in Indianapolis, Nixon told reporters he hopes the Alger Hiss case, long a bone of contention, will not become an issue in the campaign this year. He praised a statement by Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential nominee, on the Hiss case and had friendly words for Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

"Forthright" Statement

Nixon said Stevenson made a "forthright, direct statement" when he said he had "never doubted the verdict" that convicted Hiss of perjury.

Nixon denied a charge by Mrs. Roosevelt that he had called Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas a Communist in the 1950 California senatorial campaign, saying "Mrs. Roosevelt was misinformed. I questioned Mrs. Douglas' judgment, not her loyalty."

Cooperation Of Egyptians To Be Sought

Dulles To Emphasize Proposal's Peaceful Purpose At Meeting

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Western Big Three agreed tonight to seek working arrangements with Egypt to share control of Suez Canal traffic as a step toward peaceful settlement of the crisis.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles undertook to launch the American-British-French project for an 18-nation association of canal users at the second London Suez conference opening tomorrow.

Dulles will outline the plan, emphasizing its peaceful purpose, before diplomats of the 18 nations representing 90 to 95 per cent of shipping through the canal. The talks will open at 11 a.m. in storied Lancaster House under chairmanship of British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd.

There was an unmistakable mood of skepticism and even some opposition to the proposed users group plan as foreign ministers and special envoys assembled. The same 18 nations had backed last month the Dulles plan for international control of the canal, which Egypt's President Nasser rejected even as a basis for negotiation.

Egyptian Challenge

As if to underline the doubts, one of the bosses of the Egyptian Suez Canal Authority sent forth what seemed to be a challenge to the organizers of the association.

Director Mahmoud Yunis, speaking in the canal halfway port of Ismailia, was asked by reporters what would happen if the association tried to send ships through Suez with their own pilots.

"Let them try," Yunis retorted. Yunis declared the crisis set off by a mass walkout of foreign pilots last Friday has ended and that the traffic situation in the waterway "is returning to normal."

Dulles will present to the conference detailed thinking of the Western Big Three on how the planned association should work, emphasizing that any new ideas and amendments would be welcomed.

Provisional Arrangements

American, British and French leaders already have said the association should employ pilots to run the ships of members through the canal, deal with the Egyptian authorities and pay Egypt for the use of the waterway. These arrangements would be on a provisional basis pending a final settlement embodying some form of international control.

Western diplomats explained the board strategy is to insure that as many as possible of the 18 canal users stick together in a common front in any dealings that might be started with Egypt or in any subsequent political and economic countermeasures.

Ike Calls Small Business Talks

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—President Eisenhower today called a White House conference of small business consultants for Sept. 27.

The move apparently was aimed at countering Democratic political campaign charges that small businessmen are being squeezed by tight credit measures taken by the Eisenhower administration.

Wendell Barnes, Small Business administrator, announced after a White House conference with Eisenhower that the National Council of Consultants for his agency will meet with Eisenhower Sept. 27.

Barnes said the group will report to the President on small business conditions and get his recommendations.

In reply to the Democratic charge, Barnes said "anyone who says credit is not available is making an inaccurate statement."

Barnes said he told the President the SBA has on hand "sufficient funds to meet all the anticipated needs off all sound small firms that are unable to obtain credit elsewhere." He said these funds total about 50 million dollars.

Butler Declares Inflation Halted By Administration

RELAY, Md., Sept. 18 (AP)—Sen. Butler (R-Md.), campaigning vigorously for reelection, tonight credited the Eisenhower Administration with increasing the purchasing power of the dollar through its anti-inflation policy.

Butler made the statement in a speech scheduled for delivery before the 13th District Men's Republican Club at this small community southwest of Baltimore.

"When President Eisenhower and a Republican Congress took control of the government in 1952, inflation threatened the fiscal stability of the entire nation," he said.

"The value of the dollar, which had dropped from 100 to 32 cents in 14 years under Presidents Roosevelt and Truman, was still shrinking when we assumed office."

"President Eisenhower and a Republican Congress took measures to halt this trend to financial disaster. I am proud to say that we met with great success. Under our policies the nation is moving toward a 100 cents dollar, and that means even greater enjoyment by the people of the fruits of their labor."

Butler made the appearance sandwiched between trips to the Eastern Shore. Yesterday he shoe-leathered around Caroline County, and tomorrow he is scheduled to speak before the state's liquor dealers at Ocean City.

Engineer Defined

BALTIMORE, Sept. 18 (AP)—The attorney general's office says it is a violation of State law for anyone to call himself an engineer, or say he can perform engineering services, unless he is registered as a professional engineer.

The opinion was requested by J. W. Gore, secretary of the State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers and Land Surveyors.

The last shot of the Civil War was fired by the Union's First Artillery regiment on April 9, 1865.

Work Launched On Navy Arctic Supply Vessel

BALTIMORE, Sept. 18 (AP)—The keel for an ice-breaking Navy cargo ship that carries its own "dock" with it was laid today in the Maryland Shipbuilding & Drydock Co. yards here.

The 9,000-ton vessel will be 465 feet long, 74 feet wide and will be girdled with a heavy belt of high-tensile strength steel to enable it to beat its way through Arctic seas closed to ordinary ships. It will be known officially as the T-AKD-1, and is the first to be built for Arctic service by the Maritime Administration for the Navy.

The ship will be able to supply Arctic military bases where no piers or other harbor facilities are available by using its special floating dock equipment.

The T-AKD-1 will be able to open her sterngate, fill its ballast tanks and flood a whole area of its inside. From this, small boats can then cruise in and out of the flooded area, relaying supplies to land. The ship also provides emergency drydocking facilities.

Extra powerful heating equipment will maintain a temperature of 70 degrees inside the ship in the coldest weather.

The ship also has a helicopter landing platform and a demountable superstructure deck.

SRC Receives Bids On Highway Projects

BALTIMORE, Sept. 18 (AP)—Bids were received by the State Roads Commission today on more than 4½ million dollars worth of highway work in Montgomery and Baltimore counties.

The Montgomery job calls for construction of 6.2 miles of divided highway along U. S. 240, Wisconsin Ave. It would extend from Pooks Hill road to Chestnut street and from Gosvenor Lane to Rockville. Low bidder apparently was Wright Contracting Co. Inc. of Odenton at $2,617,438.

The Williams Construction Co. of Baltimore submitted the apparently low bid of $1,959,769 on a contract to build a 2.6 mile stretch of dual highway just north of Baltimore along Maryland 139 to 700 feet north of Joppa road. This eventually will link with the new Baltimore County Beltway and provide a by-pass around the congested Towson area.

State's Farmers Busy Past Week

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Sept. 18 (AP)—Farmers spent the last week filling silos, cutting hay, preparing land and seeding rye, barley and alfalfa throughout Maryland, the crop reporting service said today.

In Southern Maryland, the tobacco harvest was rapidly nearing completion, and on the lower Eastern Shore, the digging of sweet potatoes was well underway. The picking of tomatoes for canning was expected to be completed in another week to 10 days.

The fourth crop of alfalfa was being cut in the north central part. Pastures were deteriorating in some sections, but still continued furnishing fair to good grazing for this time of year.

Sklar Will Join Mahoney Staff

BALTIMORE, Sept. 18 (AP)—A Baltimore attorney and former State legislator, Albert L. Sklar, has been appointed finance committee chairman of Democrat George P. Mahoney's campaign for the U. S. Senate.

Sklar, whose appointment was announced today, served 16 years in the House of Delegates as a representative of Baltimore City's 4th District. He was a member of the Postwar Reconstruction and Development Commission, 1945-1949, and chairman of the Commission on the Revision of the State's Public Service Laws, 1951-1955.

Before leaving for a dinner tonight in Ocean City of the Maryland Licensed Beverage Assn., Mahoney issued a statement aimed at small businessmen, a group heavily represented in his audience. Mahoney said the Democratic Party platform contains "a program which will bring prosperity to all businesses—not only to industrial giants, but to the merchant on the corner as well."

Schedule For Nixon Visit Announced

BALTIMORE, Sept. 18 (AP)—Republican Party headquarters today announced the detailed schedule of Vice President Nixon's coming visit to eastern West Virginia and Maryland.

Nixon, Mrs. Nixon and his campaign group will arrive at the Martinsburg, W. Va. airport at 10 p.m. Friday, Sept. 28., and will be met by a delegation that will include Maryland Republican leaders.

The group will travel by car from Martinsburg to Hagerstown, where the Vice President and his wife will spend the night at the Hotel Alexander.

A breakfast meeting will be held at 8:30 the following morning, attended by Gov. McKeldin, Sens. Butler and Beall, Reps. Devereux and Hyde and Republican leaders of the Second and Sixth congressional districts.

Nixon will give his main address in the Hagerstown public square, in front of the hotel, at 10 a.m. Following the speech the campaign party will leave by automobile for the Martinsburg airport.

Former Times-Herald Associate Editor Dies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—John Irving Belt, 72, mechanical superintendent and later associate editor of the old Washington Times-Herald, died in his home today.

He was one of seven executives to whom Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, owner and publisher, willed the Times-Herald. At the time of Mrs. Patterson's death in 1948 Belt was mechanical superintendent. He became associate editor less than a year later. Subsequently he sold his share of the paper to the Tribune Co., headed by the late Col. Robert R. McCormick. The Times-Herald was bought later by the Washington Post.

Steel Strike In July Hit Baltimore Hard

BALTIMORE, Sept. 18 (AP)—The nationwide steel strike hit Baltimore area hard in July, the State Department of Employment Security reports.

The department said unemployment in the area in July reached its highest level since 1952, and indicated that the steel walkout and its consequent effects on the railroad and construction industries were to blame.

Unemployment increased during July in the area to 23,000, or 3.3 per cent of the total civilian labor force in the metropolitan area. The department added, however, that indications are that September will show a substantial upturn in employment, reflecting the ending of the strike and various favorable economic factors.

Amharic is spoken in Ethiopia.

Demo Lawmakers Way Ahead Of GOP In Labor Scoreboard

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Democrats get a far higher score than Republicans in an AFL-CIO analysis and appraisal of key votes in Congress.

The analysis is being distributed to the big labor organization's 15 million members, to guide them in voting Nov. 6.

A study of the labor union's scorecard shows in the Senate it rates 38 Democrats as generally voting "right" and 43 Republicans generally voting "wrong" on AFL-CIO legislative aims.

It lists two Republican Senators, Langer of North Dakota and Aiken of Vermont, as voting more often than not with the AFL-CIO view, and 10 Democratic senators, nearly all Southerners, as generally opposing stands taken by organized labor.

The AFL-CIO scoring of House members adds up to this: Democrats, 168 for its views and 59 against; Republicans, 20 for and 175 against.

Marland Denial Draws GOP Fire

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 18 (AP)—Gov. Marland's denial that any State employees are compelled to contribute to a Democratic campaign fund drew a response today from Republican state headquarters.

Said GOP State Chairman John D. Hoblitzell:

"On Tuesday, Sept. 4, Gov. Marland freely admitted at a press conference the existence of a 'flow-er fund' but now, yesterday, at another press conference, he denies any knowledge of such fund collection. On what day of the month are the people of West Virginia supposed to believe you, Mr. Governor?"

Marland was questioned at his news conference yesterday about a pending grand jury probe in Lewis County of charges that West- ton State Hospital employees had been required to contribute 2 per cent of their earnings to the "flower fund."

The governor commented: "How are you going to stop something which hasn't started?"

U.S. Aid Urged For Industries Hurt By Tariff

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—A University of Wisconsin economist proposed to Congress today a policy of limited federal aid to industries hurt by changes in U. S. tariff policy.

Prof. Paul T. Ellsworth told a House Ways and Means subcommittee that "inefficient" industry, unable to compete for markets with foreign imports, should either go out of business or shift to more efficient lines.

But he suggested the federal government had responsibility for some program of indemnification which would permit such industry to adjust to foreign competition.

"Where a sudden change of tariff policy is put into effect, hard-hit industry should be given special consideration," Ellsworth said. "It should be given some period of time, say 10 years, to readjust to increased import competition such as shifting to a different type of production."

Ellsworth said he had no detailed suggestions for administering a federal indemnification program, but mentioned small business loans and retraining of workers as possible methods.

He told the subcommittee he did not regard it as economically sound to give tariff protection to "inefficient industry" simply to maintain its interest in the economy.

"Unless there is some special consideration, such a defense consideration, the mere argument of vested interest is not enough to warrant going on and protecting it," he said.

Huge B52s Grounded Pending Crash Probe

MADERA, Calif., Sept. 18 (AP)—B52 atomic bombers of Castle Air Force Base remained on the ground today while an Air Force board of inquiry tried to learn what caused one of the eight-engine jets to crash yesterday, killing five men.

Training flights were suspended for the day out of "respect for the men killed and injured." There was no general grounding of the craft.

The Stratofortress fell in flames from a height of 6,200 feet as it was approaching its base 40 miles north of here. Maj. Benjamin R. Ostlund, the commanding officer, and Capt. William J. Vetter, his co-pilot, the only survivors, parachuted safely.

Maryland North Or South? Question Hard To Answer

ANNAPOLIS, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Department of Information says it received a letter recently from a Tennessee woman asking whether Maryland is a Northern or a Southern state.

It told her to draw her own conclusions from the following:

"1. Maryland lies south of the Mason-Dixon Line.

"2. Only eleven states in the country produce maple syrup. Maryland is the southernmost state which produces this product.

"3. Almost all Southern states have cypress swamps. Maryland has the northernmost cypress swamp.

"4. Many Northern and many Southern states produce tobacco. So does Maryland.

"5. Virginia pines grow in most Southern states; Hemlock trees grow in most Northern states; Maryland produces both.

"6. The mockingbird is considered a Southern bird; there are many in Maryland.

"7. Fried chicken is considered a Southern delicacy; Maryland fried chicken is world famous.

"8. During the War between the States, sometimes called the Civil War, Maryland was the only State with units of troops in both the Union and the Confederate Armies.

"9. Maryland's 175th Infantry is the only regiment in the Army of the United States which is authorized to carry the Confederate Flag.

"10. Maryland belongs to the Southern Governors' Conference.

"11. Maryland belongs to both the Northern and the Southern Regional Park Conferences.

"12. Maryland belongs to the federal government's Eastern Coastal Migratory Bird Flyway.

"13. At Gettysburg, there are monuments to the Maryland Regiment, U.S.A., and to the Maryland Regiment, C. S.

"14. In Maryland at Antietam Battlefield, sometimes called Sharpsburg, there is a monument to the memory of the men of Maryland 'who died here for their convictions'.

"Most Marylanders find it difficult to answer your question. Some of our people consider themselves Southerners; others think they are Northerners. Perhaps the truth lies between both extremes."

French Kill 37 Rebels

'Financier' Held For Bad Check

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Sept. 18 (AP)—Joe H. Scale, 37, real estate developer who said a mysterious foreign millionaire gave him two million dollars to invest any way he chose, was taken in custody today on a $135 bad check charge.

Publicity about the strange deal last week prompted officers to look for the man from Perry, a small town 40 miles southeast of Tallahassee.

Tallahassee officers said warrants had been issued for Scales in Duval, Dade and Bradford counties. They said he ran out on a $496 hotel bill in Miami; a bad check warrant was outstanding against him at Starke, and he gave a bad check for $135.01 to an auto dealer here in May.

It was on this latter charge that Constable George H. Brown Jr., arrested Scales today.

Last week Scales told newsmen that one, Juan T. Wrigo, whom he had met in Miami several months ago through a mutual friend, gave him two million dollars on condition he would repay it in 20 years at 6 per cent interest and split any profits.

Your present Life Insurance ... will it pay you Disability Benefits?

Here's another reason it pays to be a member of Woodmen of the World. Every basic Woodmen plan carries a special feature that protects in event of permanent and total disability.

Any Woodman under 60 with one of these plans, who becomes totally and permanently disabled after his certificate has been in force a year, may, in lieu of death benefits, apply for one-half the face amount of his certificate. For example, if he has a $10,000 life insurance certificate, he would receive $5,000 cash.

15. TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY. After this certificate shall have been in force for twelve months, if satisfactory proof is furnished to the Society, prior to age 60 of the member, and while no payment or cash value is in default or will be permanently, continuously, and wholly prevented thereby for life from performing any work for compensation or profit, then existing for not less than ninety days, the Society will pay to the member in cash one-half the face amount of this certificate, on the cancellation and surrender of this certificate. Satisfactory proof must be furnished within 18 months of the date of commencement of such disability.

This is another of many "plus" benefits offered by membership in the world's financially strongest fraternal benefit society.

B&O Speedliner Slated For Service On October 28

A new lightweight passenger train that will reach speeds of up to 90 miles an hour will go into service on the B&O Railroad between Pittsburgh, Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia on October 28.

Local B&O officials said they have not received any notice of the new train being placed in service, but plans for its operation have been publicized in financial circles. The B&O train will be known as the "Daylight Speedliner" and will offer the fastest rail service between Pittsburgh and Washington ever attained.

The all-stainless-steel train will consist of three self-propelled diesel cars with a passenger capacity of more than 200.

The train, having no locomotive, is being built by the Budd Company at its Red Lion Shops in Philadelphia.

There will be two "Daylight Speedliners" in operation. One will leave Pittsburgh daily for Philadelphia, while its twin will leave Philadelphia daily for Pittsburgh.

They will operate on an eight-and-a-half-hour schedule over the 435-mile run between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia via Washington.

Passengers will have individual reclining seats beside broad picture windows, and each train will have a tavern car for food and refreshments.

One of the three-unit trains made a test run between Washington and Chicago about 15 months ago with local newspapermen as guests.

SRC To Offer Night Classes In Engineering

Arrangements have been made by the State Roads Commission with the University of Maryland to conduct night classes in highway engineering in Cumberland starting October 1 for pre-professional employees of the state agency.

A letter was received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners from Robert O. Bonnell, chairman of the SRC, outlining the program followed by the commission concerning the course.

Some employees of the Allegany County Roads Department may take the course, but nothing definite has been decided. Details of the course may be obtained from Allan Lee, research engineer, 108 East Lexington Street, Baltimore 3, Md.

Bonnell stated in his letter that the night courses have been given for SRC employees in Baltimore for the past two years and have proved beneficial both to the men and the state. The course costs $80 per year with the state paying the cost, except that the men enrolled must pay half the cost the first year, the money being refunded upon completion of the course. Men taking the course must be high school graduates.

The classes will be held Monday and Thursdays from 7 to 9:30 p. m. for a three-year period. The first year will consist of comprehensive mathematics review and introduction to analytic geometry which will be followed by lectures which will promote an orientation of the men in the general field of highway engineering.

During the second and third years of the course there will be instruction in elementary mechanics and strength of materials. This will be followed by lectures in the highway engineering field on drainage, location, and design.

Injured Cyclist Reported 'Fair'

James Jones, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Jones, 232 West Oldtown Road, has regained consciousness and is reported in "fair" condition at Memorial Hospital where he was admitted Monday night after being struck by an automobile.

Officer Richard Lashley, who investigated, said the youth was injured when hit by a vehicle operated by Robert George, 17, of 927 Gay Street.

Officer Lashley said the accident occurred as George attempted to make a left turn from Oldtown Road to Gay Street, and the Jones boy, riding a bicycle, ran into the vehicle.

Hospital attaches said Jones was admitted in an unconscious condition, suffering from a possible fractured jaw and head injuries. X-rays were to be taken yesterday.

Aid Is Pledged On Route 40 Plan

Mayor Roy W. Eves said yesterday that Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Gov. McKeldin and the chairman of the State Roads Commission have indicated they will aid in any way possible to get U. S. Route 40 from Hancock to Washington, Pa., included in the federal highway program.

Eves wrote to Beall and McKeldin and the governor turned over a copy of the mayor's letter to Robert O. Bonnell, chairman of the SRC.

In his letter to Beall, Eves pointed out the city's disappointment and concern at failure of the section of Route 40 to be included in the federal program. He said that while the city is fully aware of Beall's exerting all his efforts in the matter to have the unfair decision reversed, he asked that the city be kept informed of any moves in the matter.

Eves referred to the Crosstown Expressway and the fact that it is expected plans will be ready for advertising about the middle of November. He added the expressway was to be a link in the new Route 40 and said it would be a matter of grave concern that this link will not be a part of the chain.

Beall, in his reply, said he had taken steps to have the several SRCs of states involved get together with a view of having plans changed. But while nothing definite has been worked out, Beall said he intends to keep working until that part of Route 40 between Hancock and Washington, will be brought into the federal system and be the No. 1 toll-free transcontinental highway.

In Eves' letter to Gov. McKeldin, it was pointed out that elimination of the Route 40 section from the highway program would divert traffic from Maryland to other states and make the Crosstown Expressway a highway link without any chain. He asked information on what was being done.

McKeldin replied in a letter that for many years the interstate system as far as Route 40 is concerned, terminated at Hancock and then went northward over Route 522 to the Pennsylvania line. Some months ago when the federal government increased the allocation of the interstate system to the original 40,000 miles, the governor said Maryland took steps to have Route 40 from Hancock to the Pennsylvania line added.

But, he continued, federal regulations made it mandatory that such extensions would have to be in urban areas, and the SRC as advised Route 40 from Hancock west to the Pennsylvania line would not fall in that category.

McKeldin pointed out the SRC has made a determined effort to have that section of Route 40 included in the interstate system but so far has been unsuccessful.

McKeldin sent a copy of Eves' letter to Bonnell for consideration and the SRC chairman wrote Eves that the SRC has made application to Washington, through the good offices of Sen. Beall, to have the section included in the highway plan; and with Beall has explored the matter with officials of the Pennsylvania State Highway Commission, Sen. Martin of Pennsylvania and "Cap" Curtis, commissioner of the Federal Roads Administration.

He pointed out that there is a drive spearheaded by J. William Hunt, editor of The Sunday Times here, to stir up public opinion in Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania demanding federal action.

In connection with the effort to stir up public opinion, Hunt will attend a meeting at Harrisburg today at which area representatives will confer with the Pennsylvania Department of Highways and urge that the 130-mile section be included in the federal highway program.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (INS) — Some things I never knew about money, until a young legman named Mike emerged from the Treasury Department with his arms filled with information. He is slightly hard of hearing. I told him "go in there and get the dough." He thought I said "dope."

Here goes —
The life expectancy of a dollar bill is somewhere between nine and ten months. That is, the buck lasts that long physically before it is called in and burned. Once upon a time the government used to wash and then grind up the recalled bills, and sell the porridge to paper companies. No more.

Boston, for reasons not very clear, uses more $2 bills than any other city. Superstitious people still turn down the corners of the deuce note, or mutilate it by tearing the corner off it. (They should be cursed with a ton of them!)

The U.S. stopped making silver dollars in 1935. (But Las Vegas grew up anyway.) Years ago, somebody goofed and stashed a big store of early silver dollars in a vault only recently reopened. It knocked part of the bottom out of the coin collecting market. Suddenly a silver dollar old enough to be worth $30 was worth one.

Mints punch out about 2,000,000 pennies a year, about 500,000,000 dimes, quarters and halves, and a little over 200,000,000 nickels. There are frequently penny shortages in the richest land in history. The paper for the paper money is produced by only one company, the Crane Paper Company of Dalton, Mass. A dollar bill costs just under one cent to manufacture. So does the $2, the $5, the $10, the $20, the $50, the $100, the $500, the $1,000, the $5,000 and the $10,000.

Nothing over the $100 bill has been printed since 1945 — and you can place your own significance on that fact. Paul Revere made the first paper money engravings, then mounted a fast horse. Nero was the first counterfeiter of money, and the Kubla Khan printed the first paper money in 1273 on mulberry paper.

The dollar was adopted by Congress in 1785 as the unit of our money and the decimal system as the method of reckoning.

Tens and twenties are counterfeited most often, but the Bureau of Engraving proudly reports that no counterfeiter — no matter how much of a warped genius he was — ever came really close to the perfection of government engravers.

Bills have been green, black, yellow, red and gold, but never blue. There is a $3,000 fine attached to printing, photographing, making or executing any print or impression "or the likeness of any obligation or security, or any part thereof, without authority—etc." Treasurer of the United States Ivy Baker Priest was refused permission to show a $100,000 bill (used only by banks in transferring funds) on this writer's TV show several years ago. The Treasury didn't want any viewers to make a fast sketch of it and cash it at the corner drugstore before the Secret Service could move in.

What have Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln, Hamilton, Jackson, Grant, Franklin, McKinley, Cleveland, Madison, (Salmon) Chase and Wilson in common? Easy. Their pictures are on the bills ranging from a buck to $100,000.

The government writes 1,000,000 checks a day. To give you some idea of the number of bills it burns each year (and also to acquaint the numb with how much is a billion and a quarter dollars) the bills would stack as high as 900 Washington monuments!

Here's how "In God We Trust" (which soon goes on the paper money, too) came about: On November 13, 1861, the Rev. N. R. Watkinson of Ridleyville, Pa., wrote to Secretary of the Treasury Chase as follows —

"One fact touching our currency has hitherto been seriously overlooked. I mean the recognition of the almighty God in some form in our coins. What if our republic were now shattered beyond reconstruction? Would not the antiquaries of succeeding centuries rightly reason from our past that we were a heathen nation? What I propose is that instead of the goddess of liberty we shall have next inside the 13 stars a ring inscribed with the words 'perpetual union'; within this ring the all-seeing eye, crowned with a halo; beneath this eye the American delay with a motto expressing in flag, bearing in its field stars equal the fewest and tersest words possible to the number of states united; in the folds of the bars the words 'God, Liberty, Law.'

"This would make a beautiful coin to which no possible citizen could object. This would relieve us from the ignominy of heathenism. This would place us openly under the divine protection we have personally claimed. From my heart I have felt our national shame in disowning God as not the least of our present national disasters."

Chase acted a week later, directing James Pollock, director of the Philadelphia Mint, "No nation can back-be strong except in the strength of God, or safe except in His defense. The trust of our people in God should be declared on our national coins. You will cause a device to be prepared without unnecessary expense of piles. Don't wait another day. Apply Peterson's Ointment at once. ## Alpha Sigma Alumnae Outlines Year's Programs

Meetings for the year were planned and a new member was welcomed at the first meeting of the Cumberland Alumnae Chapter, Alpha Sigma Alpha, following the summer recess. Mrs. Edgar Reynolds, new president, presided and welcomed Mrs. Robert T. Platt from Beta Iota Chapter, Radford College, Va.

The usual summer outing was held in the form of a family picnic at the home of Mrs. James McClure, Salisbury, Pa. Swimming and boating featured the entertainment.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Your Figure — Past Perfect?

You may honestly believe that nature intended you to be on the plump side, and that at your age, you must be satisfied as you are.

Women who fight weight gain to the last ditch in their twenties and thirties are far too likely to resign themselves to what they think is inevitable later on. Perhaps the biggest trouble with this is that they resign themselves to too many other middle-aged attitudes along with the acceptance of a less than attractive figure. I've seen too many women of mature years sparkle with new viewpoints on life as they regain trimness not to realize how sadly a lost figure brings on an unworthy state of mind.

Modern medical research continues to add up very convincing evidence that ideal weight, as determined by individual height and bony structure, remains constant through adult years. And even that every pound gained past normal weight after thirty-five endangers health and life span.

What is your ideal weight? It may be more than it was when you were a slip of a girl, although it's much less than what you weigh now. It's important to find out, and that's why we explain fully how you can determine yours in a booklet, "How Much Should You Weigh?" We'll send it to you for just 10¢ and a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Write me at this newspaper.

Wishful Waiting Attitude Strong Throughout South

I have just returned from two weeks in North Carolina and Virginia. Many people in both states were greatly disturbed.

They were disturbed for different reasons, all centering around the Supreme Court ruling against racial segregation in the public schools.

Some are less disturbed than others. These are the ones who say that integration is immoral, unsanitary, unnecessary, that it can't work, and that they wouldn't permit it to work if it could. Their minds are immune to either pressure or change.

At the other end of the spectrum are the white liberals who believe integration must take place here and now, that a law is a law and cannot be administered by degrees, and the like-thinking National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

In the middle are the most seriously disturbed. They fall into many classifications.

There are those whose inborn fear of and prejudice against the Negro conflict with a likewise inborn respect for the teachings of Christianity.

There are those who realize that economic and educational discrimination against the Negro act as serious brakes on the economic progress of the South, of which they are very proud. They want to see the Negro progress as a consumer. But they want the educational and social steps of that progress to begin with somebody else's children.

I saw a young woman who was reared in the public school system of New York City, where toleration of minorities is a necessity of daily living. She does not believe that one man is superior or inferior to another because of race, color or creed, or because of the previous servitude of his ancestors. But now she lives in a little Virginia town, and she does not want Negroes, who would be in the majority, admitted to the room with her second-grader, or with her 4-year-old when he goes.

The little Negroes, she fears, are too wise and too uninhibited about the facts of life. Their parents, she fears, are unprepared for participation in the Parent-Teacher Assn. and too prone to follow the leadership of outside agitators, unfamiliar with local situations.

When told that it will come some day, regardless, and asked how the Negro parents of that day are to be prepared unless it is begun with the children now, she looks sad, as though she wished for the accomplishment without the prenatal pains.

This wishful waiting attitude is strong throughout the South today.

U.S. Pilot Sees Suez Slowdown Under Egyptians

PARIS, Sept. 18 (AP)—A veteran American pilot on the Suez Canal predicted last night the Egyptians won't be able to operate it at full capacity.

Almer W. Beale, 43, College Park, Md., flew here today from Rome. He was among the first of seven non-Egyptian pilots to reach Europe earlier yesterday after the mass walkout on the canal last weekend.

Beale said he does not see how the Egyptians can maintain the normal flow of 45 to 50 ships a day through the canal now that most of the non-Egyptian pilots have quit.

Asked if he thought the Russians and other volunteer pilots could keep the ships moving, Beale replied:

"Well, more power to them if they can."

He added that in his experience no new pilots were permitted to take over ships until they had observed operations for two months. Beale said he thought Egypt's President Nasser was "forced" to seize the canal by the way the United States and Russia handled the question of financing the proposed Aswan Dam.

"Nasser had to do something," Beale said.

The United States and Britain first offered loans to Egypt to help finance the dam, then withdrew the offers. Nasser said several times that Russia would help, but Russian officials said they had never been asked to do so.

Nasser said he nationalized the canal July 26 to get funds for the big dam project after Washington and London withdrew their offer of help.

Beale said he is still technically employed by the old Suez Canal Company but doesn't expect to have anything more to do with the waterway.

"I'm finished with the canal," he said. "What they do with it, I couldn't care less."

Earlier today in Rome the 6-foot-2 American relaxed over his Scotch on the rocks in the airport bar and said "it sure feels good to be out" of the canal.

He and the other returning pilots piled out of a TWA constellation at Rome to stretch their legs during the one-hour stop for refueling.

Market Suffers Greatest Setback In Nearly Month

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—The stock market suffered its biggest setback in almost a month today with numerous key issues down 1 to 4 points a share.

Motors, bolstered by the approach of the new models, bucked the lower trend, as they did yesterday. Chrysler stepped ahead 1½ points, while the others were unchanged to fractionally higher.

It was the eighth decline in the market in nine sessions.

While not particularly heavy, the volume of 2,200,000 shares was the largest since Aug. 21, when 2,440,000 shares changed hands.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks dropped $1.90 to $179.70, its biggest fall since it tumbled $2.10 on Aug. 21, when bank interest rates were hiked.

Based on the average, today's decline clipped an estimated $2,300,000 from the quoted value of all stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

The industrial component fell $3.20, rails $1.60 and utilities 30 cents.

Of 1,151 issues traded, only 224 advanced, 680 declined and 247 closed unchanged. Seven stocks touched new 1956 highs, and 85 made new lows.

City Hall Prayer Rooms Are Urged

BANFF, Alta., Sept. 18 (AP)—City Halls should have prayer rooms "to provide a quiet place to which we can withdraw to seek Divine strength and guidance in public affairs," Russell E. McClure of Corpus Christi, Tex., said yesterday.

He was delivering the keynote address as president of the 42nd annual conference of the International City Managers' Assn.

"Creative, spiritual thinking and prayer have amazing power to give right answers," he told the 750 delegates and wives from the United States and Canada.

Professional men responsible for the government of more than 1,000 cities and towns in the two countries must always operate efficiently and for the good of their citizens, McClure added.

A prayer room in a City Hall would provide those responsible with a sanctuary "to have a calm, objective look at every problem that is presented to us," he said.

Gortner Gets Insurance Bid

The Gortner Insurance Agency of Oakland has been awarded the bid for the covering of group accident-death insurance for participating member companies of the Allegheny-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association.

Delbert Valentine, of District 16, chairman of the insurance committee, reported at a recent monthly meeting at Friendsville that the price per piece of equipment is $25.50.

The insurance is on the firemen but is based on the number of pieces of equipment owned by each member company participating. Valentine pointed out that since 1950 the two-county association has shown a steady gain in the number of companies taking part in the insurance.

All companies of the association have been mailed a schedule on the price of the insurance, and it is the aim of the committee to have every company under the group plan.

Glass Begins Moving From PPG Plant

The first railroad cars loaded with glass from the Cumberland plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company left North Branch yesterday en route to another PPG installation for final processing.

William J. Lawrence, industrial relations director for the firm here, said the boxed rough glass was loaded in gondolas.

This quarter-inch plate glass will be sent to the Pittsburgh Plate plant at Ford City, Pa., for final grinding and polishing.

The plant has been producing rough glass since Saturday, September 8. The officials are highly satisfied with the quality of the glass.

The product of this plant will be shipped to other plants for grinding and polishing until the twin grinder and polisher is completed at the North Branch site.

The twin grinder for the company's Works 7 is being manufactured in Belgium, and the contractors are in the middle of erecting the grinder building, which requires a very sturdy foundation because of the weight it will carry.

Excavation also has been started by the Consolidated Engineering Company, Baltimore, for the HMS polisher building and the No. 1 polisher extension building.

Construction of the office building at the plant's entrance is well under way by Consolidated Engineering.

Firemen Check Call

Founding Fathers Would Be Surprised

The Founding Fathers who signed the Constitution 169 years ago at Philadelphia would probably be astounded at the all but universal veneration in which Americans hold it today.

Three of the most eminent members of the Constitutional Convention refused to sign the document on September 17, 1787—Elbridge Gerry, George Mason, Edmund Randolph. And it came all too close to being rejected in some of the special state conventions convoked to ratify it.

In Delaware ratification was unanimous, in Pennsylvania by two to one, in New Jersey and Georgia unanimous, in Connecticut by better than three to one. But then Massachusetts ratified by only 19 votes out of 355 members, and only with a recommendation that a bill of rights be added.

Then Maryland and South Carolina ratified by wide margins, but New Hampshire by only 57 to 46 and, like Massachusetts, with demand for a bill of rights. Virginia came along with a margin of only 10 votes out of 168.

In New York the Pros led by Alexander Hamilton had much difficulty in preventing conditions from being attached to ratification. Only after stringent maneuvering was ratification obtained by a three-vote margin and with another recommendation for a bill of rights. North Carolina first rejected, by 193 to 75, then ratified only after the Constitution had gone into effect. Rhode Island came along by a margin of only two votes. There was more opposition to the Constitution before than after it had been tested.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Growth Of The Presidency

The 84th Congress passed a bill—Public Law 954—"To provide for a President's Advisory Commission on Presidential Office Space," the need for such a measure arising from the increased authority and the increased functions of the presidency.

The direct staff of the President consists of 45 persons, headed by Sherman Adams whose title is "The Assistant to the President." No other president has ever had such an official to aid him, although President Roosevelt used Harry Hopkins similarly. Sherman Adams is aided by "The Deputy Assistant to the President," Major General Wilton B. Persons, U.S.A. (Ret.). These are aided by two assistants to the deputy assistant to the President. Then, in rank, comes the secretary to the President, Bernard M. Shanley. Then comes the press secretary to the President, James C. Hagerty and his assistant.

Whether this clearly defines seniority or merely represents the form of listing, is difficult to say. Harold Stassen, for instance, is fairly down the line with the formal title of "Special Assistant to the President" and he has a "Deputy Special Assistant to the President." There are several special assistants and several special consultants to the President and also a number of administrative assistants.

There is an altogether new officer in the White House, namely, a secretary to the cabinet. Prior to this administration, the cabinet had no secretary, kept no records. It was a council of the President's principal aids, the heads of the departments, meeting to discuss the problems of the nation, agreeing or disagreeing with the President and with each other in privacy.

This is now changed. Maxwell M. Rabb is secretary to the cabinet and he has an assistant to the secretary to the cabinet. An agenda is drawn up for the meeting and others than cabinet members are called in for special reasons. The National Security Council has taken some of the authority of the cabinet, but that also has an executive secretary who reports to the special assistant to the President for national security affairs.

There is another agency, the Operations Coordinating Board which is a sort of junior cabinet, consisting of the under secretary of state, the deputy secretary of defense, the director of Central Intelligence, director of United States Information Agency, and a representative of the President. The purpose of this agency is to provide for "the integrated implementation of national security policies by the several agencies."

The growth of the President's functions has not taken place in one term. It has been continuous over a period of years and has placed upon the President enormous managerial burdens in addition to his responsibilities under the Constitution. Because of his Army experience, President Eisenhower has been able to organize on a kind of general staff basis with Sherman Adams as his chief of staff.

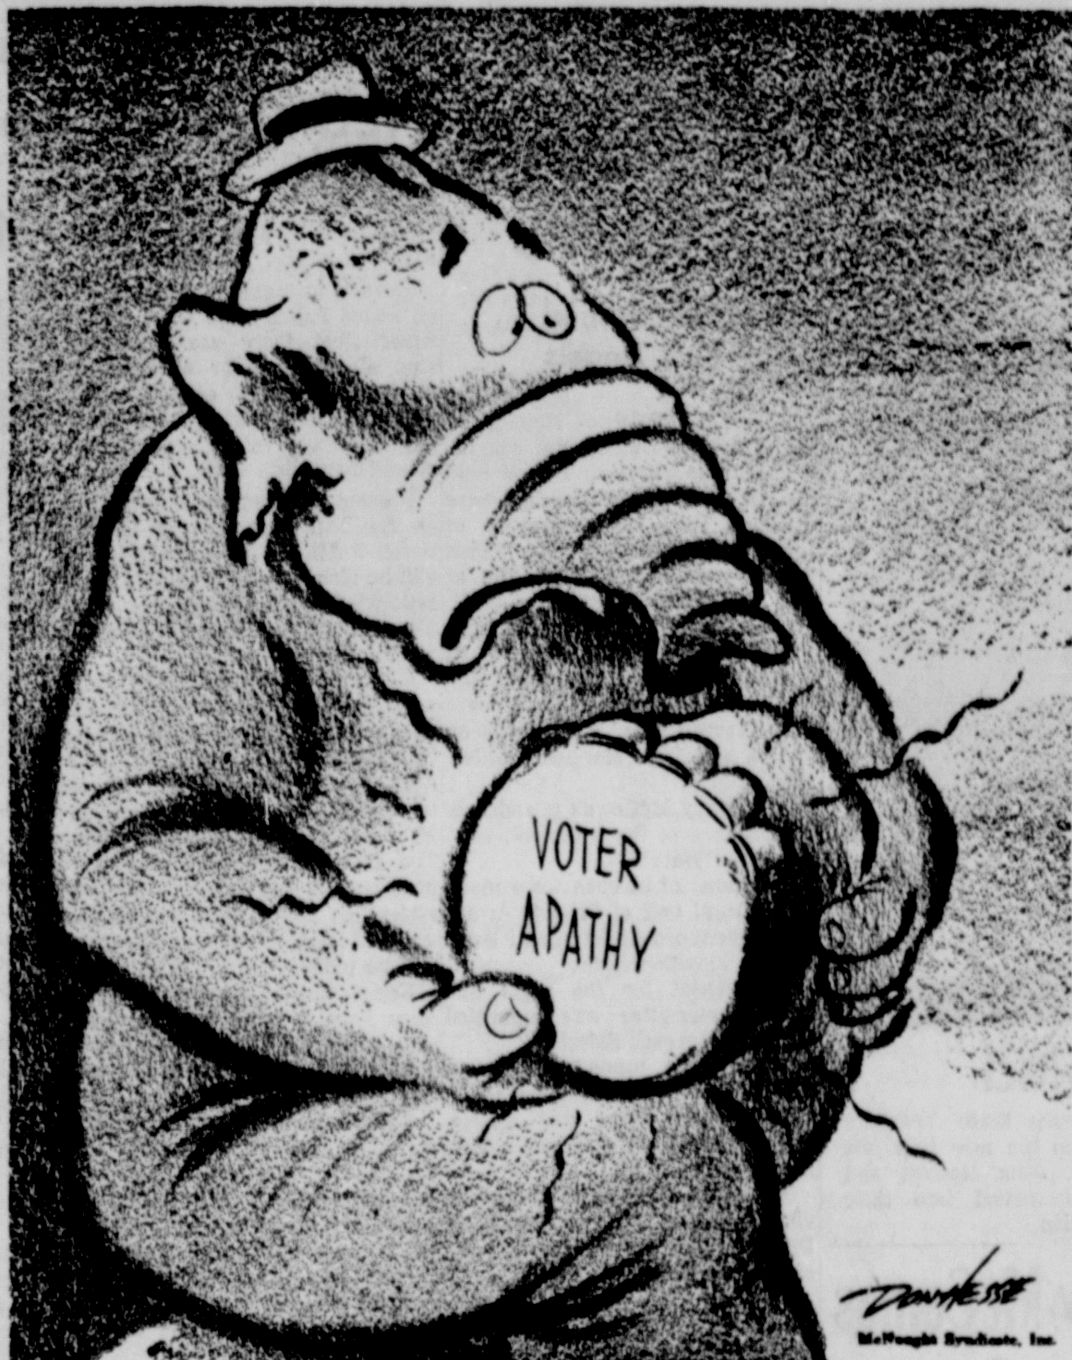

This has raised certain practical political problems, particularly with Congress, the more important and influential members of Congress declining to deal with the President through an intermediary, a method of communication to which they are not accustomed. This has been solved by the holding of stated conferences with the congressional leaders of the President's own party and with the congressional leaders of both parties.

Because of the effectiveness of this type of organization, the President's illness did not interfere with the business of the country, the White House staff continuing to function as though he were well and actually setting up offices at the hospitals in Denver and Washington, or at Gettysburg.

It is because of this experience that the office of vice president has emerged to more than it has usually been in American history. Under the Constitution, if the President is incapacitated, his responsibilities should automatically be shifted to the vice president. As a practical matter, this is not quite so easy because the word, "incapacitated," has not been defined and secondly because no vice president, as a political personality, would like to serve pro tempore.

In these circumstances, Vice President Richard Nixon presided over the cabinet and over the National Security Council but he did not assume administrative functions in the White House. Those were handled by Sherman Adams and his staff as usual. Anyone can get sick and anything can happen during a sickness. From the standpoint of continuity of managerial operation, the current method seems well devised.

Foot's Asleep

Adlai's Speechwriters Give Him Bad Information

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Whoever keeps Adlai Stevenson prepare his speeches or whoever writes them for him certainly pulled a "boner" when the Democratic presidential nominee was politically "brain-washed" by his "regency" into making the following statement in his speech at Harrisburg:

"Why is President Eisenhower the first president in this century to lose control of Congress in his first elected term?"

Now a glance at the history books will show that November 1910 is in this century and that William Howard Taft, a Republican, who had been elected in 1908, was then serving his "first elected term." But the House of Representatives went Democratic in the middle of that term.

What About Truman

It may be argued by the Stevenson speechwriters that, after all, Mr. Taft didn't lose control of all of Congress but only of a single house and that Adlai really meant loss of control of both houses. But, if that's the definition, then Mr. Eisenhower didn't "lose control" of Congress either. For in November 1954 only the House of Representatives went Democratic. It will be recalled that the Senate was a tie and that the Republican vice president would have been able to exercise control for the Republican party had it not been for the action—three months after the 1954 election—of Senator Wayne Morse of Oregon, who during the six-year term for which he was originally elected in 1950 as a Republican decided of his own accord to turn on his own party and vote with the Democrats.

There was indeed a clear case in this century of a president who lost control of both houses of Congress in a decisive vote by the electorate during his first term. This happened in November 1946 to President Truman.

Presumably the Stevenson speechwriters would say this does not count because, technically speaking, Harry Truman hadn't been "elected" president at that time and became president only because President Roosevelt died in office.

However, that may be, a vice president who had been elected on the same Democratic ticket with President Roosevelt did "lose control" of both houses of Congress in the middle of his own term.

Truman Thought It Mistake

One wonders what difference it makes so far as the meaning of an election is concerned, whether a congressional defeat in mid-term happens under a man who has been elected or one who comes to the presidency as a vice president to serve his own first term. The whole purport of the Stevenson speech was to establish the fact that, when a president in his midterm loses control of Congress, it is because "the fog is rising, the fog of half-truths and amiable complacency, and people perceive that all is not well."

Maybe the Stevenson speechwriters don't like to quote or re-read Harry Truman even for research purposes, but he didn't say anything like that when the people elected a Republican Congress in the middle of his term in 1946. He interpreted it all as a mistake on the part of the electorate and as a failure to perceive the merit of his policies. He predicted that the judgment would be reversed a couple years later in the presidential election. And it was reversed—thus disproving the theory that, because Congress goes against the administration in a mid-term election, it necessarily means a loss of the presidency to the incumbent

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Find that national pollsters were only four per cent wrong. Which gives 'em a tie with the fellow who invented near-beer.

You take a poll by calling a stranger on the telephone and saying "hello" before he hangs up.

Or you ring doorbells and take the pulse of the people by remote control. You don't write down the answer unless it agrees with your census.

This plebiscite of guided misses proves that all experts are more intelligent asking questions than answering 'em.

They don't bother much about tele-polling the eight-party lines in the Ozarks. That's where the subscribers have front and rear sights on their reading glasses.

Here's one bit of advice we give to the successful winners of November offices. Only the letter carriers are supposed to go to work with bags on their backs.

The coast-to-coast opinion farmers realize it's a difference of opinion that makes tote boards light up.

So every civic-headed citizen should exercise his franchise by agreeing with mysterious voices on telephones and equally cabalistic taps on doors.

Misinterpretation Of Statistics May Be Dangerous

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

It has been said you can prove anything with statistics. In fact, a book has been written, "How to Lie with Statistics." These concepts are annoying to the scientist who does research to find the truth rather than to prove something. But serious misinterpretations also are possible, which may be dangerous, especially when made by those who have something to sell.

Several months ago an acquaintance of mine used the following study to justify the use of a harmless patent medicine. There were no active chemicals in his product but he believed it would work through advertising and persuasion. He cited an experiment that was conducted on approximately 200 young men who were about to embark for Europe early in World War II.

All had a history of motion sickness and were regarded as poor sailors. Half were given a standard seasickness remedy; the other half received an identical tablet containing a little sugar and starch (a placebo). I do not recall the exact results except that 85 of the men who got the real McCoy had a pleasant voyage and did not become seasick.

Fifteen per cent were ill despite the remedy. This was used as evidence that the drug was an effective anti-motion sickness compound. But when the results with the placebo were analyzed the researchers found that 40 of the service men had failed to become sick even though the pills were inert. My acquaintance admitted that the bona fide tablets were better because they were 85 per cent effective.

"But what about the placebo?" he asked. "The psychological effect of a little sugar and starch must have been good enough to help 40 per cent in the second group. So long as it aided these men there is no reason to question the contents."

His interpretation of the results was incorrect. They meant simply that on this particular voyage, 40 out of every 100 travelers could expect to escape seasickness. This applies also to those who took the seasickness remedy.

It is difficult to say how many of the original 85 per cent might have remained comfortable if they had not received medication prior to sailing. The placebo brought out this fact and demonstrates that anyone who goes abroad without getting seasick should not necessarily give credit to the anti-motion sickness preparation he took as he might not have been seasick anyway.

Shame Of Arab World Over Defeat By Israel Reason Strife Continues

By Drew Pearson

(Editor's Note: Drew Pearson, with this column, continues his dispatches from the Near East. Others will follow.)

THE GAZA STRIP ON THE EGYPTIAN-ISRAELI BORDER — The word of greeting in Israel is "shalom." The word of greeting in Arabic is "salaam." Both mean "peace." Peace is so important to the people of the Near East that when they meet you they say "peace" and when they leave you they repeat: "Peace."

Yet there is no peace in the Near East.

Driving along the Gaza Strip toward the Dead Sea the other afternoon there seemed to be peace. Fields of Sorghum, patches of tobacco, carefully planted trees lined the road.

But off toward the Egyptian line you could see a cluster of houses surrounded by barbed wire—a kibbutz.

The kibbutz, or cooperative farm settlement, is the real military outpost against Arab attack. They are working outposts, operated by young, adventurous Jews, farmer-soldiers who work in the fields by day and guard the border by night — a border which is unmarked and unfortified and which raiding parties can cross almost at will.

But, as we drove south, the border seemed peaceful in the twilight.

Next morning we learned that 13 Egyptians and two Israelis had been killed in raids back and forth across the edge of the Gaza Strip. The Dead Sea

The best time to drive to the Dead Sea is in the cool of the evening or at 5 a. m. before the sun is up. In the moonlight you can see black shadows creeping slowly along the barren hillsides. They are goat herds belonging to the Bedouin tribes that scratch out a living on the rockiest, most topsy-turvy desert country I have seen east of the Grand Canyon. You wonder why anyone should want to fight over it.

Though Arabs, the Bedouins are friendly to Israeli rule, give important intelligence information on the movement of Egyptian troops.

The southernmost tip of the Dead Sea, 1,286 feet below sea level, is probably the hottest place in the world — with daytime temperature seldom below 110 degrees. There, Abraham persuaded the Lord to save Lot's family when He destroyed the cities of Sodom and Gomorrah, and you can understand how, in that heat, Sodom and Gomorrah were wicked enough to be destroyed.

Standing 100 feet or so above the Dead Sea is the pillar of salt into which Lot's wife was turned when she made the mistake of looking back. Not only Lot's wife, but everything around the Dead Sea is salt. The sand that lines the shores is rock salt, and the cliffs high above the shore are salt.

Across the Dead Sea are the hills of Moab, farthest point Moses was permitted to come when he led the children of Israel back to the promised land.

But tucked under the hills of Moab is an Arab village on the opposite shore of the Dead Sea. It is in Jordanian territory, which illustrates the crazy-quilt manner in which the boundaries of Israel have been defined — or rather undefined.

Reason For Arab Ire

The northern part of the Dead Sea is Jordanian, the southern part Israeli. The Sea of Galilee is all Israeli, though the Syrian border comes down to within 10 yards of the eastern shore. The Jordanian-Israeli border splits the city of Jerusalem into two parts. Bethlehem, where Christ was born, is under the Arabs in Jordan. Nazareth, where He grew up, is in Israel, though populated by Arabs. The border of Israel is so patchwork that the main airport of the country at Tel Aviv is only two and a half miles from the Jordan border, while the narrowest part of Israel is only seven miles wide. This is between the Arab city of Tulcarim and Natanya, named for Nathan Strauss, the first public housing administrator under Roosevelt, which is on the Mediterranean.

The reason for these patchwork borders is that they were set at the farthest point the Arab armies retreated in the Israeli war of liberation in 1948.

What happened was this: when the British yanked their troops their post office personnel, their telegraph system and everything else out of Israel at the expiration of the British mandate on May 14, 1948, the neighboring Arab nations of Syria, Lebanon, Jordan, Iraq and Egypt all converged on Israel.

And the Jews, with no organized army and few arms, performed a military miracle comparable to George Washington's defeat of the British.

King Farouk's Stamp

The Jews won because, like the 13 colonies, they were defending a new home; and because Arab troops were partially mercenaries who didn't want to fight.

But King Farouk of Egypt was so confident that the overwhelming strength of the Arab armies would crush Israel from three sides that he had a special stamp printed in Cairo featuring his picture over the words "Tel Aviv."

He never got to Tel Aviv. On the contrary his army was pushed almost to the Red Sea, and would have been pushed farther had not the British intervened.

The real problem between Israel and the Arab states today is the shame of that defeat.

It was not poor equipment that caused the Arab debacle. It was the determination of a little band of Jews fighting for a new homeland.

The Arabs are not particularly concerned about more territory. Several of them, notably Jordan and Iraq, are underpopulated. But the ignominious shame of the Arab world over being pushed back by little Israel is the real reason for today's hunger for revenge and for lack of peace in the Near East. ## Harlem

By Stewart Alsop

HARLEM, New York City

The big, asthmatic Negro woman leant heavily against the door of her cell-like room on the second floor of a rickety 19th Century slum building. Through thin walls came the sound of furious argument, followed by the thud of something thrown, and silence. A 40 watt bulb glowed eerily down the long hall, barely illuminating the scratched and scabrous walls. A black cat arched against the woman's leg, looking up with blank, suspicious eyes at the unfamiliar white faces.

"We live in these rat traps," the woman said dispassionately, without rancor, gasping a little for breath, "and nobody cares, and there's no hope for us, at least as far as I can see."

Cat Not A Pet

The big woman with the cat represents one aspect of Harlem—and no doubt of the Negro-sections of other big cities—to which sufferers from excessive complacency ought to be exposed. The Harlem slums make you wonder whether the North's smug assumption that only the backward South has failed to solve the problem of the Negro minority is soundly based. They even make you wonder if all our boasts about the American standard of living are entirely justified.

The big woman's cat was not a pet. It was a necessity. In the slum apartments in Harlem, you always find a cat or two, for protection against the swarming rats and mice, and usually a dog, for protection against two-legged enemies. This is one of the small discoveries made by this reporter and Louis Harris, the public opinion expert, in an expedition of political inquiry in Harlem.

There are other discoveries to be made. Most Americans go through life without ever meeting an adult fellow American who cannot read or write. But in the Harlem slums, illiteracy is not uncommon. One grizzled old man, a recent arrival from the South, said earnestly that he wanted to vote before he died, because "Voting makes a man a real citizen."

He had tried, but had been turned down because he couldn't write his name but now, he said, "I've learned to print my name pretty good, and do you think they'd take just printing?"

Chance Remark Sheds Light

As you talk to people in the old buildings, in the dark and littered hallways, you sometimes hear a chance remark which sheds a grim light on Harlem slum life. There was the high-strung, well-dressed man on the fourth floor of a condemned house. He said he had to get out of there—he just couldn't stand it any more. He paid $50 a month for his miserable rooms, but that wasn't the main reason. "All night long they're running up and down the stairs and fighting and jumping from one roof to another."

Occasionally you come upon grotesque, Hogarthian scenes. There was the young girl lying on a couch, her face to the wall, her body oddly crumpled, whose only response when we tried to question her was to curse and throw a pillow at a whimpering child. More often, we were asked hospitably to come in and have a seat, and we saw around us a pathetic attempt to live decently under impossible conditions, to rise above the grimness of the surrounding poverty.

Fortunately, the Harlem slums are only part of the Harlem story. It is an extraordinary experience to cross a street from a slum area, and go into one of the low income housing projects—precisely like moving out of the dark into the light.

In the projects you find hard-working and often intelligent people living decently, in a kind of colorful and noisy austerity, in small, clean apartments. The difference is not in incomes—the project apartments are often cheaper than the slum rooms. A sailor in a project explained: "Housing changes people. In a good place, everybody tries to do a little better, like I tell my son, even if you are a Negro, if you want to do something, like say you want to be a doctor, you can do it."

Marked Political Differences

Or go to a good private apartment house, like the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company's River-ton Apartments, and you find people living in considerable elegance. You also find that they are often far better informed politically than their economic equivalents in a white community, and remarkably articulate.

There are political similarities between the three categories of Harlemites, the slum livers, the project livers, and the small upper class of Negro intellectuals and opinion formers. Above all, in all three categories there is an amazingly large and solid bloc of convinced Democratic voters. But there are marked political differences too, which will be described in a second report on Harlem, and which could have real political meaning for the future.

Garrett County Memorial Hospital has a new administrator succeeding Miss Irene Sharpe, who resigned.

H. D. Swartzentruber, president of the hospital's board of directors and also president of the Garrett County Board of Commissioners, said the board met Monday and appointed Henry McComas, 50, as the administrator.

Miss Sharpe resigned on August 21 and again on August 24 and the decision to accept her resignation was made by a 7-3 vote of the hospital board of directors at a special meeting held during the last week of August.

Change In 30 Days
She agreed to have the effective date made January 1, but at any time between now and that time she could give the board a 30-day notice, or the board could give her a 30-day notice.

Swartzentruber said the board last night voted to notify her that her position will be assumed by McComas within 30 days.

Miss Sharpe, in announcing her resignation, pointed to differences between herself and certain doctors on the staff of the hospital, particularly.

She said: "I still think I did right in challenging Dr. Thomas F. Lusby and any of the other doctors regarding their attitudes toward welfare cases of Garrett County."

He stated that there had been friction among members of the staff when she arrived in Oakland to assume the superintendency on April 15, 1952.

The appointment of McComas to the administrator's job was made unanimously by a 11-0 vote of the directors, Swartzentruber said.

McComas is a son of the late Dr. Henry McComas, one of the pioneer Garrett County doctors. He formerly worked as a teller in an Oakland bank, and from 1949 to 1952 was in charge of the social service division of Baltimore City Hospitals.

From 1952 to July of this year he was affiliated with the Hamilton Furniture Company, Walterboro, S. C.

Men's Club To Meet
BARTON — The Men's Club of the Barton Presbyterian Church will meet this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the church. The new officers will preside and the meeting is open to all men of the church and other men interested in the organization.

Drive Under Way To Rid Piedmont Of Rodents

PIEDMONT — Mayor Rodney Baker and Council Monday "declared war" on rodents for the next two weeks.

Meeting in regular session, council heard Police Chief Gene Keyes report that there are numerous rats along the river banks. Citizens were urged to cooperate and comply with a garbage ordinance stating that refuse receptacles should have lids.

Present two-hour parking meters on the Piedmont parking lot between Ashfield and Second Streets will be placed on Ashfield. Officials reiterated that no parking or stopping on the west side of Ashfield Street will be tolerated.

Mayor Baker said the town has ordered four-hour meters for the new parking lot on Lyons Street, between Second Street and Child's Avenue, and they will be placed on the present parking lot, corner of Ashfield and Second streets.

The new lot will be constructed next spring. Parking will be prohibited on Kenney Street, between Ashfield and Paxton, and curbs will be painted red.

Keyes warned against unnecessary horn blowing late at night and Ormond Ledlow, town clerk, reported that parking meters netted $105.35 last week.

Russell Hoopengardner, of East Hampshire Street extended, requested that a sewer-water line be continued to that section. He was advised that the town's financial status makes the move impossible at this time. However, the Public Service Commission will be contacted, asking particulars on possible aid.

Council ordered raincoats for two policemen. Similar rain outfits were discussed for Street Department employees, but no action was taken.

Jocelyn J., 8-1 Set Cops Feature; Hebe Wins, Pays $25.80

Handle Tops Million For Fairgo Meet

Favorites Run Out In Four; Two Break Maiden On 6th Day

Favorites ran out of the money in four events, prices ranging from $10.20 to $25.80 were paid in six contests and only one top choice won on the Maryland Day program — the sixth of the 12-day racing meet of the Cumberland Fair Association.

First choice that took it "on the chin" as a gathering of 4,700 looked on were Sunny Weather, fifth in the opener; Chin Wag, fourth in the third; Aganama, fifth in the sixth and Connie Girl, fifth in the seventh. Four other favorites finished either second or third.

Clark Posts "Double"

During the afternoon of surprises, marked by perfect racing weather, the fans saw the first woman trainer to register a win, Jockey Willie Clark, the riding sensation of 1955 chalk up a "double" and two thoroughbreds break their maiden at the local half mile oval.

Joe Cream, an 8-year-old bay horse, owned by Josephine Morris and trained by Elsie S. Morris, won by the margin of 3½ lengths over Mary Godfrey, the favorite, in the second event and coupled with Bushpark ($10.20) victor in the opener, returned a daily double payoff of $36.40 for the 3-5 combination. It was the second time those numerals paid off at the current session, Hawk Man and Anita Masters having won on Saturday at $12.60.

Hebe Returns $25.80

Willie Clark, who had a leg up on 26 winners here a year ago, was aboard Joe Cream and also Hebe, victor in yesterday's third. Hebe, incidentally, was overlooked by the bettors, and returned the best price of the day—$25.80 for $2. The wins were the fourth and fifth for the New Jersey saddlesmith and put him just two of the pace set by Joe Snyder, who booted Dark Challenge home first in the fifth for his 7th win in six days.

Dark Challenge, owned and trained by David M. Preston, finished a half length in the fore of Mizar and was the only favorite of the day to register. Seventeen favorites have won in 48 races, dropping the percentage from Monday's 40 per cent to 35.

Luther W. Broom's Byanip, a 4-year-old filly, won the first race of her career here in the fourth, beating Lil's Dream by six lengths with Miss Eileen, the public choice winding up in third place. Tommy McGovern was in the winner's saddle and her backers received $13.20 for two bucks.

8-1 Shot Takes Feature

William K. Lafferty's Jocelyn J., an 8 to 1 shot, also won her first race, whipping High Dividend by 2½ lengths under the guidance of Melvin Gerst, apprentice, who made it three firsts at this meeting.

This $18.40 for $2 shot, a 6-year-old bay mare, copped the 7th and featured event named in honor of Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, who was unable to attend. Paul M. Fletcher, state's attorney for Allegany County presented a savings bond to the rider of Jocelyn J.

Franciotti Breaks Ice

Anthony Franciotti, who had a place horse and seven thirds in 12 previous outings here, piloted his first winner by booting home Arthur L. Beall's Broom Party ($14.40) by the margin of one length over Irismark in the sixth.

SETS PACE — Joseph Snyder grabbed the lead in the jockeys' race at Fairgo yesterday when he scored aboard Dark Challenge in the fifth race for his 7th win in six days. Joe's record to date at the local half mile is 7-8-6 in 35 mounts. He rode in four races yesterday and in addition to his win he had two seconds and a third. Lark Challenge was the only favorite to win on the Maryland Day card. Snyder had eleven winners at the recent Timonium meet.

Talbert Upsets Aussie Player

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18 (INS)—Bill Talbert, veteran captain of America's Davis Cup team, scored a major upset in the Pacific Southwest tennis championships today by defeating Australia's Neale Fraser.

Talbert, playing a cagey game all the way, sent Fraser down to defeat 2-6, 6-4, 6-3. Fraser is rated as Australia's third-ranking player. Talbert wore him down in the 90-degree heat with a fusillade of long shots from the baseline.

Yankees Clinch Pennant; Milwaukee Wins, Dodgers Lose

Melody Manor Is Finalist, Defeats Old Germans, 5-4

Outdoor Wins, 6-2, Battles Potomac Valley Tonight

Melody Manor, of the County League, advanced to the finals of the Western Maryland Softball Tournament by defeating the Old Germans of the City League last night at Penn Avenue Field by the score of 5-4.

The Cumberland Outdoor Club, of the Rocking Chair League, earned a semi-final berth, by defeating the Tri-Towns Merchants of the Mineral County League in the second game of last night's doubleheader, 6-2.

Outdoor Club will play the Potomac Valley Old Germans of the County League tonight at 7 o'clock, at Penn Avenue Field and the winner faces Melody Manor in the championship contest Thursday at 7 o'clock.

Jerry O'Baker was returned the winner over Dick Klavuhn in last night's opener. "Buck" Winfield collected two of Melody Manor's six hits, Louis Lease smashed a homer and Cessna rapped a double. Galen McGregor and Martin had two hits each and "Bumps" Barton smacked a double for the Old Germans.

Successive homers by Manager Cecil Grimes and "Bub" Porter that produced three of the four runs during a third inning daily sparked the Outdoor Club and Floyd "Pete" Elliott to victory in the nightcap. Grimes' circuit belt came with one mate aboard and Porter followed him with a round-tripper. Vern Pender collected two of the winning team's six hits. Perry smacked a round-tripper for the Merchants in the final frame. E. Coleman and Price banged two-baggers for the Tri-Towns team.

Hershey Golf Pro Dies Of Injuries In Auto Accident

LANCASTER, Pa., Sept. 18 (AP)—Golf professional Johnny Weitzel, twice the winner of the Pennsylvania Open, died in Lancaster General Hospital tonight from internal injuries suffered nine days ago in an automobile accident. He was 33.

Weitzel had been the pro at the Hershey (Pa.) Country Club since 1952 and won the Pennsylvania Open in 1955 and 1956.

He was injured Sept. 10 in the head-on collision of his station wagon with a cattle truck at near-by Elizabethtown. He was returning to his rural Hummelstown home from a tournament.

Mantle Hits 50th Homer To Win Game

Mickey's Circuit Blast In Eleventh Beats Chisox, 3-2

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 (AP)—Mickey Mantle wrote a fitting end to the 1956 American League pennant race tonight by blasting his 50th home run which carried the New York Yankees to a 3-2 victory over the Chicago White Sox in 11 innings and their seventh title in eight years.

Mantle's towering blast into the left field upper deck made him the second Yankee in history to hit 50 home runs. It came with two out in the 11th and stopped left-hander Billy Pierce from gaining his 21st triumph of the season.

The drive also gave the Yankees 182 home runs for the season, tying their American League record set in 1936. The only other Yankee ever to hit 50 or more home runs was the mighty Babe Ruth, who did it four times and set the all-time record of 60.

Mantle now is eight games behind Ruth's record-setting pace of 1927 and has little chance to catch or pass the Babe.

Whitey Ford gained his 19th triumph of the season against five losses but needed help in the 11th inning after giving up a single and a walk. Bob Grim came in to put out the fire.

Sox Score On Homers

The two White Sox runs came on homers by Larry Doby in the first inning and Walt Dropo in the eighth. Dropo's drive gave the Sox a temporary 2-1 lead.

New York's first run was unearned and came in the fourth inning on a Mantle single, the first off Pierce. Billy Martin reached second when second baseman Nellie Fox dropped his fly ball in short right and scored on Mickey's single.

Martin kept Yankee hopes alive in the ninth. He tripled to start the inning and scored the tying run on Yogi Berra's bloop single to left.

Chicago . . . 100 000 010 00—2 8 1

Maryland Ace

Although scheduled to graduate next June, Tamburello required summer school attendance this year and next in order to get his degree.

The Maryland football coaching staff, immediately upon learning of Tamburello's orders to report Oct. 1, debated whether to use him this season since playing one minute would bar him from ever playing for Maryland. If they do not use him Saturday, Jack Fritsch, a junior, will step in to the quarterback position against Syracuse.

Fritsch will be the first new quarterback for Maryland since Tamburello took over the job as a sophomore in the middle of 1954.

GUEST—Rear Admiral I. N. Kiland, commandant of the Fifth Naval District, will be a guest of the Cumberland Fair Association today and will present a trophy to the owner of the winner in the fifth race—"The Naval Reserve." Adm. Kiland will arrive here this morning to inspect facilities for training naval reservists. His headquarters are at Norfolk, Va.

Ken Boyer's Homer Beats Brooklyn, 6-5

Cardinals Defeat Leaders In Ninth On Two-Run Blast

BROOKLYN, Sept. 18 (AP)—Brooklyn's National League lead was trimmed to one slim percentage point over Milwaukee tonight as the St. Louis Cardinals, after blowing a 4-0 lead, hustled back to beat the Dodgers 6-5 on Ken Boyer's two-out, two-run homer in the ninth inning.

The Braves, now just one game back of Brooklyn in the lost column with eight to play, also blew an early lead before coming back to beat Pittsburgh 6-4.

The Cardinals, beaten five in a row by the world champions, had only three hits until the ninth after a near-perfect twin relief job by Ed Roebuck and Carl Erskine. But Stan Musial, whose 25th home run had made it 4-0 in the third, singled to open the ninth and trotted home on Boyer's 26th home run, after Wally Moon and Rip Repulski had fled out.

The Dodgers had rallied with two in the third against starter Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell with Jackie Robinson's two-run, two-out single breaking a string of 20 consecutive scoreless innings by the young southpaw.

Brooklyn got one more in the sixth on a pinch single by Sandy Amoros and then took the lead in the seventh on Gil Hodges' 28th home run, a two-run poke against reliever Herm Wehmeier.

Blaik Gets Aides

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP)—Army football coach Earl (Red) Blaik has two assistant coaches this season. They are Dale Hall, halfback on Army's national championship team of 1944, and Tom Harp, who had been Masillon, Ohio, high school coach the last five seasons. Hall, a native of Parsons, Kan., was separated from the service in 1949 and since then has been on the coaching staffs at Purdue, New Hampshire and Florida. He is coaching the linebackers and defensive backfield and also is head scout.

Harp, a native of Barnsville, Ohio, is Army's backfield coach. He is 28 and before coaching Masillon he served three seasons at Carrollton, (Ohio) High. His Masillon team won the Ohio football crown in 1954 and was runnerup last season.

Logan's Blow In 8th Sinks Corsairs, 6-4

Johnny's Two-Run Single Wins; Braves Gain On Brooklyn

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18 (AP)—Johnny Logan belted a two-run single in the eighth tonight, enabling the Milwaukee Braves to come from behind and emerge with a 6-4 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates. The victory put the Braves into a virtual tie with the Brooklyn Dodgers who lost 6-5 to the St. Louis Cardinals.

The victory moved the Braves to within one percentage point of the first-place Dodgers. Brooklyn now has a .604 mark on an 87-57 record and Milwaukee is .603 with an 88-58 record.

Billy Bruton, flashy center fielder for the Braves, made a thrilling one-hand catch of Dick Groat's fly in the ninth with two on and two out to give relief pitcher Lou Sleater the victory.

The Pirates, who spotted the Braves a three-run lead in the first two innings, knocked starter Lew Burdette out of the box with a two-run uprising in the sixth which put them ahead 4-3.

Billy Made Mistake

CHICAGO (AP)—When the Brooklyn Dodgers visited the Chicago Cubs for the last time in 1956, Dodger third base coach Billy Herman recalled that it was 25 years ago when he broke in as Cub second baseman.

"I was a scared kid," said Herman. "I made the mistake of getting a hit on my first time at bat and the next time I got hit in the head and was carried off the field. Silas Johnson, pitching for Cincinnati, was the guy who beamed me."

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18. (INS)—You can imagine how happy Jan Sterling is that she, too, will be on Broadway in the late Robert Sherwood's last play, "Small War in Manhattan," a few months before Paul Douglas opens in "A Hole in the Head."

Paul is almost as excited as Jan, who hasn't been on "the Broadway stage for seven years. She leaves in time to start rehearsals the first of November, taking with her her 11-month-old son. "Jan opens Christmas week," said Paul, "and if I am not finished with my picture 'Protection for a Tough Jacket,' with Jean Simmons, at M-G-M, I will take time off for opening night."

Paul thinks it is a good omen that Garson Kanin will direct Jan. He authored "Born Yesterday," which made a star of Paul and later brought Jan to Broadway in June Holiday's role.

You can expect to see Gene Tierney back on the screen before long looking more beautiful than she has in some years. Gene had luncheon with Spyros Skouras, president of 20th Century-Fox, and her agent, George Chasen, in New York a few days ago and both report that she has never been in better spirits or brighter than she is today.

Gene has one more picture on her contract with 20th but she has never been well enough to fulfill it. Now that she has apparently gotten Aly Khan completely out of her system and is interested once more in her career, 20th will find a property for her.

I've never seen Doris Day as gay as she was in Las Vegas. She seemed so happy and more like the Doris of years ago. She told me that she starts "Pajama Game" at Warners in early November, and then if MGM doesn't preempt her she will co-star with Clark Gable in "Teacher's Pet."

After I came home I was told that the starting date for "Teacher's Pet" depends on Doris. If Perleberg and Seaton can get her in April or May they'll wait. If not, Clark will have another "Teacher's Pet" until late spring he will accept Norman Krasna's offer to star in "Kind Sir."

The most serious romance Lori Nelson has had is with Publisher Robert Petersen. Except for publicity purposes, Lori hasn't dated anyone else since she met young Petersen two months ago.

He was formerly a press agent with MGM, and when he left that job several years ago he started some automobile magazines and is now regarded as the most successful publisher in that field. He's also made plenty of money since he left his press agenting job.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: While dining at the Oyster House, Nancy Valentine revealed that she and her bridegroom, Fred Tillinghast, III, have an April stork date.

Famed conductor-composer Buddy Bregman, who separated briefly from his wife, the former Gloria Haley (Jack's daughter), is back home again.

Betty Hutton persuaded Kirk Douglas to pay the Mary Kaye Trio $15,000 to sing the title song of "Spring Reunion." The trio is doing good business at the Crescendo.

Sorry to miss the Betty and Al Bloomingdale tenth wedding anniversary party. Belated congratulations to them, and I hear the party was wonderful.

A Ciro's duo was Stuart Cramer, former husband of Jean Peters, and Swedish beauty Siv Bering, who is another who's supposed to look like Grace Kelly. Scott Brady's father, Lawrence Tierney, Sr., hosted a birthday luncheon for Scott and presented him with an oil painting of famed clown Emmett Kelly.

Diana Dors will houseguest Jack Fishman, editor of London's "Empire News," who gets here in a week to look over Hollywood. On the stroke of midnight Saturday, Bogey telephoned Lauren Bacall in Las Vegas from his boat to wish her happy birthday. That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Report Of TB In U.S.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—The National Tuberculosis Assn. says about 80,000 new cases of active TB are reported in the United States each year. It estimates there are more than 1,200,000 cases, both active and inactive, needing treatment or at least medical supervision.

William H. Lemmert, board president, moved for adoption of the resolution and Charles N. Wilkinson seconded the motion. James Orr concurred.

Finally, the county commissioners urge each citizen to acquaint himself concerning what has been done for his protection and to give his unqualified support to this program.

Meanwhile, an executed copy of the plan of agreement for Social Security coverage for all county employees was received by Gorman E. Getty, attorney to the commissioners.

The plan, which covers every qualified full or part-time employee and official, whether elected or appointed, is retroactive to January 1. The plan was sent to Getty by Paul H. Fales, chief of the Board of Trustees of the State Employees Retirement System.

A letter from Thomas J. S. ## Financial Data Prepared For Bond Buyers

City's Funded Debt Totals $10,556,000

A report on the finances of the City of Cumberland has been prepared by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, for firms which are interested in bidding on city bond issues.

The report was completed yesterday afternoon and copies were mailed immediately to firms which have requested information on bond issues totaling $300,000 which the city will sell September 25.

Gibson said the report includes the pertinent information the investment firms want on the city's bonded indebtedness.

Copies of the report are also sent routinely to Maryland and New York investment houses kept on the Finance Department's mailing list, and to firms in other areas which are interested in municipal securities.

Request Information

A number of requests for financial data were received this week. The report shows the assessed valuation of the city totals $74,322,556, down from the $74,613,462 assessments for the 1954-55 fiscal year.

Bonded debt of the City of Cumberland now totals $10,556,000, according to the report.

Included are general obligations totaling $6,261,000 and water bonds totaling $4,295,000.

Net Debt $7,271,462

The net debt of the city, however, is $7,721,462.80, since the sinking fund set up to retire general and water bonds totaling $3,880,000 stands at the $2,834,537.20 mark.

Principal requirements which the city must meet on its obligations through the 1960-61 fiscal year are also listed.

The only unfunded debt is a 90-day bank loan of $32,000, secured by uncollected street and sewer liens.

Tax collections in the city are good, figures show. All but $24,139.91 of last year's $1,131,180.08 tax levy has been collected, and all but $4,289.23 of the $1,030,117.91 levied in fiscal 1954-55.

Rate Is $37.39

The 1956-57 property tax is $37.39 on each $1,000 of assessed valuation, a rate spread between $1.08 by the state, $20.50 by the county and $15.80 by the city.

Cash in banks on June 30 totaled $550,337.23, made up of operating, bond, special and sinking fund monies.

The city also holds short-term government notes and bills totaling $748,252.60, representing bond proceeds which are invested until needed.

In a brief report on operating revenue and expenditures, Gibson listed revenues of $1,627,870.76 in the fiscal year which ended June 30, with $85,213.72 of revenue in excess of expenditures.

The year before, the city ended its fiscal year with $101,567.07 more than it spent.

Judge Denies Move For New Trial

Associate Judge Morgan C. Harris yesterday denied a motion for a new trial in a $75,000 damage suit in which the Allegany County Circuit Court jury decided for the defendant after only 38 minutes of deliberation.

Judge Harris also signed a judgment affirming the verdict in favor of the defendant and against the plaintiff, requiring the plaintiff to pay the $49.85 court costs.

Mrs. Cora Lepley, 355 Bedford Street, through Attorney Harold E. Naughton, had brought suit against James H. Bennett, a sailor from Newark, Ohio, whose automobile struck her along U. S. Route 220 in front of the Celanese plant. W. Earle Cobey was the defense attorney. The jury heard the case July 26. Naughton two days later moved for a new trial.

Fire Prevention Week Plans Being Formulated

Representatives of the Cumberland Fire Department, Allegany-Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association and Fire Insurance Underwriters Association of Allegany and Garrett counties met last night at LaVale Fire Hall to set up a program for the observance of National Fire Prevention Week October 7-13.

"Don't Give Fire a Place to Start" Is the Theme This Year

Attending the meeting last night were Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker, of the Cumberland Fire Department; Alvin Rankin, who represented the two-county volunteer firemen's association; John E. Geare, who represented the underwriters, and Cromwell Zembower, a member of the fire prevention committee of the volunteers' association.

At a recent meeting of the volunteer firemen, material was passed out to those in attendance to be distributed throughout the area.

Included in the material are inspection forms, farm literature, posters and fire prevention buttons. It was obtained through the cooperation of the association and the underwriters.

Zembower, who is chairman of the speakers bureau committee of the association, is arranging various programs in the area and is urging all companies to take an active part in reminding residents of the seriousness of fires and how they can be prevented.

Organizations desiring to hear a speaker on fire prevention may call Zembower at PA 2-2317.

Locally, city firemen will be in charge of distributing literature and stressing fire prevention. National statistics show that every day there are 1,200 home fires; 31 deaths by fire; 116 store fires; 105 factory fires; 107 barn fires; 14 school fires and four hospital fires.

Oakland Firm Is Low Bidder On Two Schools

The Oakland contracting firm of Hardesty and Shirer submitted the low combination bid of $552,533 to build two new elementary schools in Garrett County, according to Superintendent of Schools Willard Lee Hawkins.

The jobs are a 12-room school on Dennett Road in Oakland and an eight-room school on U. S. Route 40 at Long Stretch.

Hawkins said the George Construction Company of this city submitted the low bid for the Oakland school, but in combination with the low single bid on the other school George was higher than the Hardesty-Shirer combination bid.

Baker and Combs, Morgantown, W. Va., also submitted a combination bid, but the Garrett County superintendent said this was about $90,000 higher than the Oakland firm's price.

The Garrett County Board of Education is expected to award the contract early next week. In the meantime, Hawkins is hopeful of squeezing about $25,000 out of the price by means of a few short cuts because only about $550,000 is available to build and equip the two schools.

The other delegates, Joseph V. Burke and Rachel P. Muir, will leave tomorrow by plane.

A. E. Johnson, vice president, will be in charge of the union office during Stein's absence.

Labor Unions Seek Success Of Chest Drive

Leaders Back Plan For Payroll Deduction

Labor, in an all-out concerted drive to make the Community Chest's 1956 fund drive a success, met last night at the residence of Lewis J. Ort, general chairman, in LaVale to outline participation in the program.

One of the most important parts of the agenda was the discussion of industry and union participation in a payroll deduction plan for employees.

All segments of labor seemed united behind this year's campaign, Ort said last night, and are meeting with management and conducting plant solicitations while recommending that members join the payroll program.

One labor leader said last night union participation is the most important contribution labor can make community-wise. It is everybody's business, he said.

Another said it is important for all employees to be a part of community enterprise. Labor here, he stated, wants people everywhere to know it works together for the mutual benefit of everyone.

Must Reach Quota

Cumberland, he added, cannot fail the Chest again as it did last year. It is a black mark against the community.

At the meeting of Chest officials and labor union leaders at Ort's home the group reviewed the resolution which Chest leaders are urging unions here to adopt to promote the payroll deduction plan for Chest contributions.

The resolution urges: 1. That the shop stewards of the union recommend to the union membership active participation in the Community Chest Drive for 1956, both as donors and as solicitors.

2. That all the members of the union subscribe for a monthly check-off plan for making their annual contribution "in such an amount as each member may see fit to contribute, according to his income and family needs."

3. That the individual check-off per member per month be not less than 50 cents, but that the minimum amount should not be considered mandatory.

Resolution Adopted Union leaders hope to persuade local and area industries to participate in the plan by adopting the payroll deduction program for the Chest.

The Teamsters Union, Local 453, already has adopted the resolution and several other locals are expected to vote on the program soon.

Attending last night's meeting were F. Patrick Allender, Carpenters Local 1024; George E. Clark, Iron Workers Local 568; Harry L. Hickle, Operating Engineers Local 37-B; Charles Carey, Sheet Metal Workers Local 122-C; William Moon, Glaziers Local 751; George W. Lucas, Electrical Workers Local 307; Robert T. Weaver, Laborers Local 6616; George Callis, Painters Local 947; Charles L. Cross, Plumbers Local 489; Charles E. Bramble and C. E. Stutzman, Teamsters Local; Lewis W. Burke, Roofers Local; and Cecil Clark, J. N. Guilford, and A. Earl Johnson, Rubber Workers.

Meeting Postponed

The Advance Gifts committee of the Chest drive yesterday afternoon postponed its first report meeting and instead held a second section training meeting for the members of the group.

The outline of the program for the group was given the 30 members who attended the session at Fort Cumberland Hotel by former Judge William C. Wals' and general chairman Lewis J. Ort. The Advance Gifts committee hopes to raise $73,000 of the $137,389 needed this year to operate the nine agencies of the Chest.

The first report of the Advance Gifts group will be made at a luncheon meeting to be held by the officers and teams at the Fort Cumberland Hotel at 12:15 p. m. Friday.

Family Gathering Planned Friday

A United Family Gathering will be held Friday at the South Cumberland Salvation Army Corps.

Participating will be members of the Salvation Army Citadel and South Cumberland Corps.

The event will include a supper at 6 p. m., followed by a meeting and the showing of a religious film. Capt. Daniel Biggs, Citadel commander, said this will be the first fall Family Gathering, and that others will be held each month, alternating between the Citadel and South Cumberland.

Court To Close

Juvenile Court will close at noon today as members of the staff observe Cumberland Day at the Cumberland Fair Association's race meeting at Fairgo.

School Board Discusses Cost Of New Project

Seeks Ways To Slash $408,930 Price

Ways and means of reducing the cost of the proposed Northeast Elementary School on Valley Road between Cumberland and Bowman's Addition were discussed by the Allegany County Board of Education at a lengthy meeting yesterday afternoon, but no action was taken on the bid.

The George Construction Company, this city, submitted the low bid of $408,930 for the proposed new school September 7.

Dennis Madden of the Mt. Rainier architectural firm of Walton and Madden is still investigating ways of reducing the price of the job through a few short cuts.

Hoped For Lower Cost

Superintendent of Schools Ralph R. Webster said the board had hoped to build and equip the Valley Road school for $410,000.

The County Board of Education was informed of a revision in the by-laws of the State Board of Education. The by-law previously prohibited teachers and pupils from use of intoxicants and tobacco on school property during school hours. As a result some teachers would go to the school boiler room for a stealthy smoke.

The revised by-law simply states that use of tobacco by pupils on school property during school hours is prohibited. It makes no statement at all concerning smoking by teachers.

Webster has notified all principals of the revision.

First Night Soccer Game

Permission was granted Frostburg State Teachers College to play a night soccer game against North Carolina State College on the Beall High School football field the night of November 3. It is believed this will be the first night soccer game in Allegany County.

The Cumberland Choral Society was granted permission to use the Fort Hill High School auditorium the night of December 3 for its annual Christmas musical program.

Mrs. Albert C. Cook, vice president of the board, presided in the absence of Kenneth R. Malcolm, president.

Formal acceptance of 51 new teachers, 24 in the elementary schools and 27 in high schools, was granted.

Foley Endorsed By Teamsters

Local 453, Teamsters Union (AFL-CIO), has endorsed John R. Foley, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Sixth Maryland District.

The announcement was made yesterday by C. E. Stutzman, business agent, who said the endorsement was voted at a meeting of the local Sunday.

No action was taken at the meeting, he said, on other recommendations made by some 60 labor leaders of the area Friday night.

At this meeting, Stutzman said, labor leaders voted to recommend to their organizations the endorsement of Foley; George P. Mahoney, Democratic candidate for the Senate, and Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver, the Democratic candidates for President and Vice President.

Stutzman stated that his union will conduct a campaign to have all members register as voters.

He urged other leaders to make the registration the first point on their agenda.

He stated the deadline for voters to register to vote in this county is Saturday, October 6.

Stutzman also cautioned the officials present to make sure all their members are registered, keeping in mind that names are removed from the poll books if those persons have not voted in the last five years.
